AP Spanish Language

Independent Study: Welcome to AP Spanish

Welcome to the AP Spanish Course. We're confident that you will find this course to be an enjoyable and effective way to improve your ability to read, write, speak, and understand Spanish.

We have designed this course to help you:

- Prepare for the AP Spanish Exam
- Thoroughly review the basics of Spanish grammar
- Learn more about Hispanic culture and civilization
- Acquire new vocabulary covering many areas and disciplines
- Fine-tune your skills in reading and understanding Spanish
- Perfect your ability to write clearly and coherently in Spanish
- Instigate and/or carry on involved conversations in Spanish on a wide variety of topics
- Express yourself verbally with correct grammar, a rich vocabulary and clear pronunciation
- Persist in your study of Spanish by providing an interesting variety of activities

Course Organization

The majority of the course is conducted almost entirely in Spanish. The tips and grammar tutorials are a mix of Spanish and English to aid in the student's comprehension of the material since this is an online course. The course is divided into ten units. Each semester includes four content units and one semester review and test. The last unit of the second semester is a review specifically for the AP Exam. Each unit is based on an overall theme, and highlights a specific country or region of the Hispanic world. Each unit is divided into three lessons and a unit wrap-up. Each lesson contains approximately ten to twelve activities. Although this course is completely online, you will have a teacher who will be available to answer any questions you might have regarding the course and the content. The teacher will also be correcting your assignments and any audio or essay submissions.

Course Materials, Activities, Assignments and Assessments

The course materials, activities, assignments and assessments have been written, created and organized by the school. This includes all the interactive visual activities, the authentic audio excerpts, reading passages, pronunciation lesson audios, and all other content and assignment material. The intensity, quality and amount of materials can be compared to a third-year college course. The activities and assignments in this course are specifically designed to help you improve your skills in all Spanish communicative areas, and also prepare you for the AP Exam. The tests, especially the unit tests and semester final exams, are structured to assess your complete understanding of all the information presented. They should be prepared for quite intensely. They will also give you great practice for the AP test. Read the following list of skills that you will be improving and the activities related to each area.

- Listening

- Practice listening skills with authentic dialogues, narratives and passages.

- Reading

- Read authentic literary pieces for comprehension and analyze them for important cultural and literary elements.
 - Read passages in each unit to practice skills and learn cultural information.

- Writing

- Write various types of essays – narrative, expository, descriptive, analytical and opinion.
 - Write responses to literary works.
 - Practice interpersonal and presentational writing tasks
 - Writing includes short essays, timed essays or short research papers.

- Speaking

- Practice interpersonal and presentational speaking tasks
 - Practice picture panel stories and directed response speaking throughout the course.
 - Practice specific pronunciation of various Spanish sounds.
 - Speaking assignments will be recorded, submitted to teacher and then graded.

- Vocabulary

- Learn important vocabulary in each lesson.

- Grammar

- Introduce and practice all the necessary verb conjugations and other grammar points necessary for the AP test.

Authentic Audio Materials

Each lesson provides the opportunity for students to listen to authentic audio materials. These materials will be taken principally from the internet. The activities will include listening to radio and news broadcasts, themed topics, television and movie excerpts and other interesting audio clips. Students will be required to respond to these audio materials either orally or in writing. Their comprehension will be assessed through their accuracy in their notes, quality of personal response/reaction and/or degree of correctness to specific questions and quizzes.

Authentic Written Materials

Each lesson also includes authentic written texts so students can develop their reading abilities. In addition to several literary texts found throughout the course, there are also other authentic written texts provided in each lesson. These authentic written materials will be principally taken from the internet. They include newspaper and magazine articles, themed readings and other nontechnical writings.

Students will be required to respond to these audio materials either orally or in writing. Their comprehension will be assessed through their accuracy in their notes, quality of personal response/reaction, completeness of interpretations and/or degree of correctness to specific questions and quizzes.

Speaking Opportunities

Although this is an online course, students will have regular opportunities to develop their speaking skills in a variety of settings using various types of discourse and topics. First of all, students will have several pronunciation lessons throughout the course. Also, students will need to record themselves answering various questions, describing pictures, telling stories or responding to different topics at least once a unit. In addition, the teacher will organize Elluminate sessions each semester. These Elluminate sessions will allow all the students to log on to an online classroom where they will be able to converse in Spanish with their teacher and other classmates. Finally, students will be given regular opportunities to use their Spanish in non-academic settings and with native speakers. Some possible activities include going to a Mexican restaurant and ordering completely in Spanish, calling in to a Spanish radio station and requesting a song, interviewing native Spanish speakers, volunteering and speaking only Spanish at a Latino outreach program, volunteering at a Spanish or ESL class, etc. These will provide incredible speaking and even cultural opportunities for the students.

Workload

You should expect to spend several hours a week on this course. Try not to let a day go by where you don't study Spanish at all. It is important to really immerse yourself in the content to fully benefit from it. The material has been specifically gathered and organized to provide you with an intensive Spanish experience. Do not skip over any lessons or activities or you will miss out on important information. The various assignments and practices will require a lot of preparation and personal effort to complete.

Grading the AP Spanish Course

As you go through the course, you'll find that most activities, such as lesson and unit quizzes, discussion activities, practices and teacher-graded assignments, will enter into your grade. Some of these will be computer-graded. Others, such as the speaking and writing assignments, will be sent to your teacher for grading.

Additional Preparation

Many of the lessons and units will have "Related Resources", including websites, readings, and suggestions of other material to study. You should take advantage of as many of these other resources as possible. You should also look for opportunities to improve your Spanish by speaking to native speakers and listening to spoken Spanish. The more practice you have using your Spanish, the better you will score on the AP test and, more importantly, the higher you will reach in your ability to communicate.

¡Manos a la Obra!

That's Spanish for "let's get to work"! You're ready to start now. We wish you an enjoyable and rewarding experience as you take your Spanish skills to the next level.
